Radiohole's "Whatever, Heaven Allows" received the 2009 Spalding Gray Award from the commissioning consortium of Performance Space 122, Walker Art Center (MN), The Andy Warhol Museum (PA), and UCLA Live (LA). The Spalding Gray Award was created by PS122 and UCLA Live in 2006 with the support of Kathleen Russo; the consortium was recently joined by On The Boards (Seattle); the award supports gifted writer/performers who fully realize both aspects of Spalding's legacy and are fearless innovators of theatrical form; it includes a commission and a full production in the consortium's upcoming seasons.

This performance was supported by a Commission Grant from the Jerome Foundation.

WHA is a National Performance Network (NPN) Creation Fund Project co-commissioned by PS122 in partnership with The Walker Arts Center, The Andy Warhol Museum and NPN. Major contributors of NPN are the Doris Duke Charitable Foundation, Ford Foundation, the National Endowment for the Arts (a federal agency), the MetLife Foundation, and the Nathan Cummings Foundation.

This program is supported in part by public funds from the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs, The Nancy Quinn Fund, NYSCA

Performance Space 122 is an inaugural partner of On The Boards TV; "Whatever, Heaven Allows" will premiere on OTB-TV this Spring.

BEERS FOR BABIES

Please take a moment to give us a small donation for your beer in the donation box by the beer tub. All money received will go to the Radiohole Babies child-care fund.

During the making and touring of "Whatever, Heaven Allows", Radiohole has had to raise money for our babies & baby-Mamma & Daddies to join us on the road. That means plane tickets, car-seats, sippy cups, the works!! But with a few extra bucks from beer-drinkers like you, our children will be taken care of. To learn more about the Radiohole Babies (two-year-old Mia Pearl Fliakos, one-and-a-half-year-old Tallulah May McRae Silovsky, and one-year-old Zapata Huber Hoffman Enriquez) go to www.Radiohole.com

To join Radiohole's mailing list:
